DON. M. TURNER A REBEL COLONEL

Man Well Known in Southwest Soldiering With Estrada in Nicaragua.

Don M. Turner, well known in many parts of the southwest, evidently is having a thrilling time of it down in Nicaragua. He is referred to as a colonel in "The American," of Bluefields. A section of a battle description in that journal reads: "About a half hour later a body of sharpshooters commenced a deliberate fire on the Sandino hill and the revolutionaries were forced to lie close in the trenches to escape the bullets that were whistling so dangerously close to them. A 'Times Democrat' man was viewing with great interest the work of some of Lara's men about a thousand yards away and had the good fortune to escape a well directed shot which passed between him and Col. Don M. Turner, with whom he was conversing. The bullet struck a frying pan in which a revolutionary soldier was cooking his frijoles about ten feet to the rear of where the two friends were conversing. The soldier forgot all about his supper, but the 'T. D.' man at once remembered his and came to town in pretty fair time to get it."

STRIKE CAUSES FEW VACANCIES SAYS WAID

Strikers Directing Efforts Against Mexicans--The Pumps Working.

There are only four vacancies caused by the strike of the maintenance of way men on the G. H., according to superintendent Waid. One of these is on the Sanderson district and three on the Del Rio district, Mr. Waid says. "The section gang at Sanderson, composed mostly of Mexicans, was threatened Tuesday. Strikers or strike sympathizers told the Mexicans that if they did not leave by Wednesday they would be forced to go. A ranger was sent there Wednesday.

"It is against the Mexicans being employed by the G. H. to take the place of the striking maintenance of way men, that the strikers are directing their efforts at present. It is said that they are now endeavoring to get the city officials of Sanderson to quarantine against El Paso. The strikers assert that smallpox might be brought to that city by the Mexicans who are sent there from El Paso. No action has been taken. The railroad officials state they will fight the issue.

"The strikers have also complained to the immigration service that the railroad is bringing cheap labor into the United States and an official of the service has been at Marfa investigating." Superintendent Waid states there is nothing to the complaint that its labor is obtained through employment agencies in El Paso. The strikers have also complained to the state ranger service and asked to have the rangers withdrawn from points along the division, and have also addressed petitions to the state railroad commission asking that the railroad company be compelled to put its tracks in order.

TO START WORK ON THE DAM WITHIN TWO WEEKS, ENGINEER REED THINKS

The official order of the court approving the report of the Socorro commission has been forwarded to the attorney general's office at Washington and copies of the order sent to the interior department, the state department and the reclamation service. This order will pass through the office of the attorney general and go to the secretary of the treasury, who will issue the warrant for the $200,000, which is to be deposited with the clerk of the Socorro court.

As soon as this is done and the amount reaches the Socorro court, the reclamation service will be given instructions to proceed at once with this work and there will be no interruption until the big dam is completed.

According to district engineer W. M. Reed, who has returned from Socorro, it will require about two weeks for all of the formalities necessary to make the deposit to be completed, as it requires four days for the order to reach Washington and another four days for the warrant to return with the intervening week which will be required in the transaction of all the necessary business connected with the deposit.

A rush of general superintendents, foremen and bosses of various kinds has begun at the district engineer's office, but as yet no men wishing jobs as laborers on the work have been received.
